Attendance Award

This fortnight, the class with the highest attendance in the main school was Pioneers with 97.8% attendance. Well done and keep up the good work!

Communication from School

We regularly send communications home by email but it appears that not all parents are reading or receiving their emails. If you have changed your email address recently, please see the School Office so we can amend our system.

If you would rather receive paper copies of all communications, this can be arranged but obviously, for environmental reasons, we do prefer where possible to email parents.

This week has been a busy week preparing for the Christmas Fair tomorrow. Thank you for all your donations, we hope to see lots of you there spending your money to support the school.

Navigators have been busy this week baking gingerbread men to support their learning about this classic fairy tale; the smell in the school was delicious and the children thoroughly enjoyed cooking them! We have started a regular baking slot on a Friday afternoon with Mrs Holden, who has been running these sessions.

Some children from Pioneers headed off this afternoon to represent the school at a multiskills festival at Limpsfield. They left very excited and we await their results on their return. Thank you to Miss Faulkner and Mrs Dance for taking the children to this event.

We look forward to seeing many of you tomorrow at the Christmas Fair.

1. Schools Direct

If you want your training to be based in a school of your choice, where you can be fully immersed in the life of a teacher from day one, a school-led training course is for you. You're selected by the school and are based there during your training. You will also spend time in at least one other school to gain the broad experience required to become a teacher. All school-led courses cover the practical and theoretical elements of teaching alongside University partners. Most school-led courses lead to a postgraduate certificate in education (PGCE) and/or master's-level credits, in addition to qualified teacher status (QTS). The TTA works in partnership with both Christ College, Canterbury and Brighton University.

2. SCITT

We constantly look to develop outstanding school-led primary initial teacher training programmes, integrated with the Teaching School expertise that engages schools in the Partnership in leading the training of high calibre recruits to become outstanding members of the teaching profession in Surrey and its bordering counties. We have linked with South Farnham who are Surrey's largest school-led primary provider of initial teacher training with over 100 schools in Surrey and beyond. Their trainees are highly sought after and they look to deliver 100% employment every year. A PGCE qualification is available to those who wish to pursue this M-level qualification (60 masters credits) with Roehampton University. To find out more about the programmes on offer, entry requirements and FAQs please have a look at their new interactive brochure and promotional video or visit www.ssfscitt.org.uk.
